At the conclusion of a speech by E. C. Reed, of Chicago, a former president of the association, the appointment of committees was anounced and adjourn-ment taken until 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the convention reassembled at the inside inn. There papers were read and discussion had on subjects of importance to the confectionery trade.

Concluding the day's program for the Confectionery Jobbers was a reception held this evening in the building of the Travolers' Protective Association on the Exposition Grounds.

Law He Helped Frame and Pass.

CAMBRIDGE, OHIO, August 7.—The fine of $29,000,000 given the Standard Oil Company by Judge Landis, in Chicago, Iast week was used to-day by Senator Joseph B. Foraker to defend his public career, especially his attitude on the Hepburn rate bill. He claimed credit for the fine in that he framed for the most part and helped to pass the Elkins law, under which the case against the Standard was brought.

the more than 100 cases brought "Of the more than 100 cases brought against railroads, corporations and shippers in the last two years, every one, including the one in which the Standard was beavily fined last Saturday, was brought under the Elkins law, which I helped to frame and pass," said the senator.

When asked whether he was a candidate for the presidency, he said that "no one should be a candidate for so high an office."

GROUNDS, VA., August 7.—The work of the convention of the Knights of JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION of the convention of the Knights of Calumbus to-day cinsisted in an extended executive session at the Pine Beach Hotel, regarding which nothing has been given out. It is understood, nowever, that the convention discussed plans for the further extension of the order. Many of the Knights, accompanied by ladies, attended a fishily at Cape Henry to-day. This was greatly enjoyed by all who attended and was the first outing of the kindthat many of them had ever experienced. No other fish frys in the world are just like the Virginia variety. The famous Chesapeake Bay spots and trout were in great abundance. the convention of the Knights of

To-morrow's program includes exercies at the Exposition Grounds, be known as Knights of Columbus Day. The program includes addresses by Governor Swanson, of Virginia; President Harry St. George Tucker, of the dent Harry St. George Tucker, of the Jamestown Exposition; Supreme Knight Edward L. Hearn, of the Knights of Columbus; Right Rev. Benjamin J. Kelley, bishop of Georgia, and Monsignor Falconi. Elaborate programs by the various bands and the singing of national airs by a chorus of 500 children are included in the features of the day.

At the close of the addresses, to be delivered from the reviewing stand. Lee's Parade, the United States regulars and National Guards encamped at the exposition will be reviewed by the State officials and Church dignitaries.

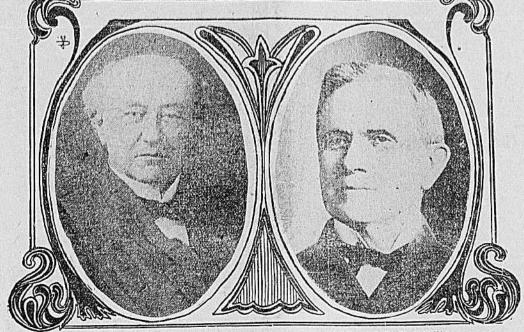

Show Marked Growth.

The annual reports of the supreme officers show a growth of the Knights of Columbus in the last quarter of a century unparalleled in the history of Catholic fraternalism in America. The order, organized in Connecticut in 1882, remained an institution in that State only until 1885, when it was established in Rhode Island, and then spread to New York and other States, until the order is now fleurishing not only in every province of the Dominton of Canada, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Mexico and the Philippine Islands, with a total membership of 186.666, divided into forty-one State councils, twelve territorial jurisdictions, and 1,223 local councils.

The greatest growth of the order has been in the past eight years, the bers to its present membership, the increase in State councils having been 37.

This great increase has been during of New Haven, as supreme knight.

Sentiment Rpaidly Crystallizing in Favor of Roosevelt and Bryan.

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7.—
The question most frequently put to the Washington correspondent by the visitor to the national capital whom he meets is: "Will Roosevelt be the analysis again."

Will President Accept?

The question as to whether President Roosevelt would accept the nomination, if tendered it, is not yet answered. It is impossible to answer it absolutely either affirmatively or negatively. But the fact remains that the great majority of the Republican office-holders in Washington believe that they will have to support Mr. Roosevelt next year.

It is a significant fact that many Republican politicians out of office haves Roosevelt would accept the nomina- in tion, if tendered it, is not yet answer-an Indiana Republican, who is very close in several ways to the Hon. Chas. Warren Fairbanks, expressed the opinion that every other aspirant had as well clear out of the field, that Mr. Roosevelt was already as good as elected. It is practically conceded he cannot carry Indiana.

Republicans are claiming that Mr. Roosevelt could get several Southern States. They claim he could carry Missouri, as he did in 1904.; that he could carry Maryland, where he get one electoral vote in 1904, and that he could carry Tennessee, where there is a strong sentiment for him, and Georgia, where Colonel John Temple Graves has been whooding up Roosevelt for a year or more. Arkansas is also being counted upon to cast its electoral vote for Roosevelt by those who want a third term.

third term.

South Is Still Solid.

Of course, persons familiar with political sentiment in the Southern States I have mentioned know that it is impossible for a Republican candidate for the presidency to carry them. Missouri gave her vote to Mr. Roosevelt three years ago because the Democrats of that State refused to support Mr. Parker, and would not go to the palls; owing to their firm belief that trickery had secured the nomination of the New Yorker. But it is admitted that had Mr. Bryan been the candidate the Democrats would have swept the State by a large majority.

It is doubtful, however, whether the nemination of Mr. Bryan would strengthen the party in the other States of the South which tha Ropoliticans claim are doubtful. But there is not the smallest shadow of doubt in the minds of Democrats from those States with whom I have talked in the course of the past few weeks concerning the ability of a respectable Democrat carrying very Southern State over Mr. Roosevelt or any other man whom in the Republicans may man. In Maryland, it is claimed, that he could not got even one electoral vote wore the election to be held to-morrow.

VIRGINIA CREW AGAIN

A regatta has been arranged for West Point on Saturday, August 24th, in which the Virginia Boat Club, of this city, the Analostan Club, of Washington, and possibly the Ariel or Arundel crews, of Baltimore, will be the competitors. The Virginias and Analostans recently rowed a beautiful mile race in eight-oared shells here, the Virginias winning handliy by brilliant work. The Washingtonians have been strenghtening their crew, and will go to West Point with the determination to regain their lost laurels, if possible. Meanwhile the Virginias are not idle. The eight-oarded crew is out daily for practice with another eight-oarded shell, and the men promise to improve on their work in the recent race.

The West Point regatta will be had on Saturday afternoon, the 2 P. M. train from this city arriving in time for it. The visiting oarsmen will be entertained at a german tendered by the local club in this city on Friday night, August 23d.
